—A full account of the presentation of a badge of honor to its oldest member, William Hood, by Tionesta Lodge No.
369, I. O. O. F., appears on the 4th page of the Republican today, and will be read with interest no doubt by many old friends of the recipient. A good portrait of Mr. Hood accompanies the article.

—Mrs. A. W. Stroup captured a big owl last Wednesday evening in the chicken park at her home on Vine street, and has him living and on exhibition.
The big bird had made away with seven of their young chickens at different times and had another in his claws when Mrs.
Stroup captured him by pushing him into the door of a closed coop, with a stick.

—Mrs. Chas. Hunter met with a mishap at her home on the West Side, Monday night, in which she was severely though not seriously injured. Rising in the night to go to another room she instead passed through the door leading to the stairs and fell headlong to the bottom of the steps. Fortunately no bones were broken, but she was so severely bruised that she will be confined to her bed for several days.

—How would a sane Christmas appeal to you? The sane Fourth was a success, and now there is a movement on foot for the organization of a sane Christmas propaganda. An organization to be known as the World's League for a Sane Christmas has already been launched, with headquarters in Indianapolis, and the movement will doubtless receive cordial endorsement everywhere. A branch should be started in this neck o' woods.

—Some awfully big fish has stuffed the editor of an Olean paper with the story that a gar fish weighing 12 pounds and measuring 4 feet was caught in the Allegheny river near that place recently.
With the exception that few if any "gar" are left in this river, that they grow to be only two feet long at best, are a slim-jim fish measuring about 2 inches through the thickest part and never weigh to exceed a pound and a half, the Olean story is possibly true.

ory, and four sons, W. F. and J. F., of Warren; W. G., of Watson, and Charles, of Youngsville, also one brother, Theo-—Mrs. Metta E. Sibley, wife of ex-Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, died at her home in Franklin, Wednesday morning last, after an illness of nearly a year.

She was the daughter of Simon M. and Colts Babcock, and was born at Friendship, N. Y., Nov. 17, 1833. She was married to Mr. Sibley forty years ago last March. Their married life has been a happy, devoted one; a congenial couple with tastes alike, and the severing of so sweet a companionship leaves the stricken husband a lonely man indeed.

—A postoffice inspector was here last day of the week looking up rural routes.
Friday he went over a proposed route from West Hickory to Endeavor, Whig Hill, Starr, Kiser corners and back to West Hickory by way of Albaugh hill, a distance of 27 miles. Saturday an inspection was made of a proposed route from Tionesta to Hunter Station, back to Donovan's, and back by way of Dawson's, the F. M. church to the White church, thence down Hunter run to Tionesta, a distance of 22 miles.

—There is a good tip for other communities in this item taken from the Mercer Dispatch: The Mercer County Automobile Association, at its last meeting, decided that the best plan to be followed by the members of the organization, in its effort to secure better roads in the county, was to co-operate with the road supervisors in the various townships. It will purchase three split-log road drags, one to be kept at Greenville, one at Mercer and the other at Sharon, to be used on roads in these vicinities to demonstrate to the supervisors the value of this simple device in road making.

all their old comrades will attend and take their families with them. Able speakers will be present to entertain the veterans.
The business meeting of the Association will be held at the driving park at 1:30 p. m., and the Camp Fire at the Avenue theatre at 7:30 p. m. J. P. Logan is president, W. W. Perry, secretary and A.
C. Stear, local secretary, of the associa-—It was an exciting fight while it lasted, but there is one less rattlesnake living today as a result of the struggle.

When Leslie and Archie Black, youngsters, who live near Grunderville, finished the career of this reptile Wednesday, they sank upon the ground high exhausted. While in the woods near the sulphur springs, the two brothers came upon what is known as the black snapper species of the rattlesnake and the reptile opened hostilities at once. Arming themselves with clubs the boys gave fight. They had a job winning the battle, but did so finally. The snake measured four feet and six inches in length.—Warren Times.

Valuable Land Never Patented.

A peculiar condition is said to have been discovered regarding the recent transfer of the estate of the late E. E.
Clapp to the Billikin Oil Company. This company is composed of Jamestown N.
Y., men, among whom is Jas. Forbush, formerly of this city, who is the Oil City Derick. In its purchase the company took over about 2,000 acres of land that is heavily timbered. The investors decided to get rid of the timber and in looking up the old deeds it has been discovered that the title on about 1,100 acres is obscured; that although a patent for the land was made out it seems that the papers were never signed. The late E. E. Clapp, or the person from who he acquired the land, it is said, purchased it at tax sale.
The effort of attorneys to discover persons who are in a position to show that Mr. Clapp held undisputed possession of the property for the twenty-one years preceding his death brought forth the facts of the defect in title to light. They have located an old resident of Forest county, in which most of the timber tract is located, who is willing to swear to the Clapp possession, and a similarly valuable witness has been located in D. P.
Kable, the well-known oil operator of Lineville, this county.

It is believed that it will be a mere matter of form to secure a good title through their evidence, and when aff-davits have been secured the attorneys will go to Harrisburg and make application to have the original patent confirmed. The fact that during his lifetime Mr. Clapp refused to sell any of his immense holdings of land is possibly responsible for the tardy discovery of the condition of the title of this large tract, from which none of the timber that has covered it since this section was a wilderness, has been cut.—Franklin News.

SALE OF TIMBER CONSUMMATED.

Negotiations which have been going on for some time were yesterday consummated by which the fine body of timber on the above mentioned tract becomes the property of John Coleman of Williamsport and Geo. F. and Harry H.
Watson of Tionesta. The deal was closed and all papers passed, the consideration being close to the $140,000 mark. The purchase consists of tracts 2822 and 2827, comprising 2,140 acres and lying wholly within Forest county. The timber on these tracts consists principally of virgin pine, upon which the woodsman's ax has never been laid, although there is also much hemlock and hardwood. It is in fact the only pine timber tract left in this section that has up to this time been untouched. The new owners are as yet undecided as to whether they shall place a mill on the tract, or haul the timber to a location near a railroad and manufacture it there. This point will be decided upon, however, in a few days, and active operations will be commenced forthwith.
In the deal the Billikin Oil Co., above referred to, retains the land and minerals, which includes oil and gas rights.

RECENT DEATHS.

THOMAS.

Sarah Ann Thomas, daughter of the late Jacob and Mary Lackey, was born in Butler county March 29th, 1843, and died at the family home in Tionesta township, Pa., July 31, 1911, at 2 o'clock p. m., after a painful illness extending over a period of several months. She was united in marriage with William W. Thomas at East Hickory, then Venango county, on August 6, 1861, who survives her, and to this union were born the following children: James M., and George H. Thomas of Tionesta, Fred W., of Shippensburg, Alvin A. and John E., of Tionesta, Mrs.
Verna Anthony of West Hickory, Mrs.
Bertha Kightlinger of Warren, Miss Jennie at home, all surviving except Charles W., who was accidentally killed in the lumber woods some years ago.
One step-daughter Mrs. Jane Zerbe of Tylerburg, also survives. These are benefits of a kind and affectionate mother; the aged husband, now stricken totally blind, deeply mourns the loss of a faithful, loving companion, and the community a good neighbor who was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

Funeral services will be conducted at the M. E. church, of which the deceased had been a member for 18 years, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. O. Calhoun officiating, and the interment will be in Riverside cemetery.
